Subject: CRS' position on the prevention of sexual transmission of HIV

January 11, 2008

Dear Country Representative:

Please find enclosed a copy of a recently approved position paper by CRS. This is the agency's position on the Prevention of Sexual Transmission of HIV.

This document has been approved by the ELT and should be used to guide CRS supported programming.

CRS is working to produce several position papers over the next few months which are intended to help program managers better understanding the agency's position on aspects of our work in the ever-changing environment of HIV. You will recognize these position papers as they are sent to you by their style and format. Please read these documents carefully and ensure that CRS supported programs and its public persona in your country reflect the agency's position.

Technical staff and professional colleagues external to the agency from around the world worked to pull together the information that is presented in this document, and their efforts are sincerely appreciated.

Please contact Jennifer Overton (joverton@crs.org) if you have any questions regarding this document.

Hard copies are on their way to the field shortly.
Jennifer
